

Snow Day Activities

Choose an activity (or more) to complete during a snow day. We can't wait to see what you create.

English

- Snow Day Diary with Photos – Take a photo of something outside (snow, frost, icicles) and write a diary entry describing it with sensory language.
- Winter Poetry Collage – Take photos of textures, shapes, or colours outside and create a short poem inspired by your images.

Maths

- Snow Measurement – Measure snowfall using a ruler or estimate depth in different areas. Take photos of your measuring spots and create a chart.
- Snowball Fractions – Make snowballs (or draw circles if no snow) and divide them to show fractions or percentages. Photograph your snowballs for evidence.

Science

- Snowflake Close-Up – Photograph a snowflake or frosted window and draw it, noting symmetry.
- Insulation Challenge – Wrap ice in different materials (towel, foil, newspaper), take photos, and record which keeps it frozen longest.

Geography

- Weather Map – Take a photo of the outside scene, then mark it on a simple map showing temperature, snow depth, and weather symbols.
- Compare Winters – Find photos online of snow in other countries. Compare with your own snow photos: note differences in depth, activity, and environment.

History

- Winter Then & Now – Take a photo of your snow day activities and compare it with a historical snow painting or photo. Write a short paragraph about differences.

Art & DT

- Snow Art Photography – Build a snow sculpture or create a winter scene indoors using cotton/wool. Take multiple photos and annotate them with measurements and materials.
- Shadow & Light Art – Take photos of interesting shadows or shapes in the snow for drawing inspiration.

Computing

- Photo Presentation – Use your photos to create a slideshow or digital poster about the snow day.
- Digital Storytelling – Make a short photo story or comic strip showing your snow day adventure.

PSHE & Life Skills

- Mindfulness Walk Photos – Take 5 photos of things that calm you outside (snow patterns, frost, sunlight) and write a sentence about why they make you feel relaxed.

Physical Activity

- Snow Obstacle Course – Make a mini outdoor obstacle course in the snow, take photos of each station, and explain rules or measurements.
- Winter Movement Video – Record yourself doing a snow-themed dance or exercise routine.
